

Ostendorf collection O-72c

THE PRESIDENT LOOKS UP FROM HIS READING, spectacles in hand—an Alexander Gardner photograph taken in Washington on Sunday, August 9, 1863. Lincoln's secretary, John Hay, wrote in his diary of this sitting: "I went down with the President to have his picture taken at Gardner's. He was in very good spirits."